

FUNCTIONAL SKILLS TUTOR

WBTC is a leading training provider of apprenticeships to local businesses. We currently have an exciting job opportunity in our delivery team.

We are seeking a highly motivated and versatile individual to design, deliver and support Functional Skills maths and English teaching across our Adult and Apprenticeship Programmes either on a full-time basis (one job holder) or several part-time job holders. This will initially be a short term contract.

You'll need to be enthusiastic, an excellent communicator and competent in the following areas:

- Designing and delivering maths and English for learners 16+
- Identifying and supporting individual learning needs
- Experience of working with students with additional learning needs
- Experience of remote teaching / virtual learning environments

Appropriate teaching qualifications and experience of maths and English delivery is ESSENTIAL.

The job holder/s will be home-based, working in a virtual training environment with the learners.

Please send CV with covering letter stating current salary to karenf@wbtc-uk.com or telephone 01635 35975.

In your covering letter please include the following:

- How many years of teaching functional skills experience do you have?
- In 1-2 sentences, please describe how your previous experience is relevant to this role? Why are you a good fit for this job?

WBTC - paving the way for equality of opportunity in training, education and employment for all.
